MCDONALD ACHIEVES SEASON'S GOAL WITH WINNING TREBLE

Atumultuous week that saw jockey James McDonald cop a three-week suspension from stewards for his losing ride on Threeood (Star Witness) at Randwick on June 20 finished with a happy ending as the champion hoop broke the century of city wins for the season with a treble at Rosehill on Saturday.

McDonald had to wait for the final race to bring up his historic "ton" as Kordia (Epaulette) unleashed a powerful surge to win the Hyland EOFY Sale Handicap (1200m) after earlier scoring aboard Rothenburg (Rothesay) and Rohenry (Lonhro) to take his tally of Sydney winners to 100.5 for the 2019-20 season.

McDonald, who rode 104 winners to claim the Sydney jockeys' premiership last year, is the first to ride at least 100 metropolitan winners in successive seasons since Darren Beadman in 2007 and was delighted to achieve his goal.

"I was thrilled and extremely happy as it was a goal I had set out to achieve," McDonald said.

"I had great support through a wide base of trainers and owners and we couldn't have done it without that support.

"It's a hard environment that we compete in and so to do it twice is such a really good thing to achieve.

"We've fought away at it and hopefully I can get a few more before the end of the season."

McDonald gave plenty of praise to the team around him including his agent Mark Guest.

"Monday is quite stressful for Guesty as he is working through rides up to two weeks in advance," he said.

"We sit down and try and work through them and pick the best ones although there is always a loyalty to the bigger supporters.

"He does a great job communicating with everyone and we work really well together.

Champion jockey James McDonald (Trish Dunell)

"I also got to speak with my mum back in New Zealand (after the win on Kordia) which was really nice.

"She is devastated she hasn't been able to come over as she was there for my 100th last year but she's very happy and it is always good to talk to family back home."

McDonald has his sights set on retaining his Sydney jockeys' premiership despite the three-week suspension that runs from July 5 to July 26.

He currently holds what seems an unassailable 20.5-win lead over nearest rival Nash Rawiller (80 wins) but won't be resting on his laurels with whatever time he has left in his season.

"It will be my main focus as I would love to achieve that goal as well," he said.

"It would cap off a wonderful year."

SARGENT RELIEF AS BRANDENBURG STAYS PUT

Australian racing continues to stem the tide of promising horses heading offshore with the owners of Brandenburg (NZ) (Burgundy) knocking back lucrative international offers.

While Gr.1 Randwick Guineas (1600m) winner Shadow Hero (Pierro) has been sold to Hong Kong, the connections of Brandenburg join those of stakes winners Kinane (NZ) (Reliable Man) and Front Page (Magnus) to turn down overseas buyers.

The news Brandenburg will continue his career in Australia is music to the ears of trainer John Sargent who believes the three-year-old's best racing is still ahead.

The colt has already compiled a strong resume, winning the Gr.2 Hobartville Stakes (1400m) and placing against older horses in the Gr.1 Doncaster Mile (1600m).

He is back in training at Sargent's Randwick stable and has progressed to three-quarter pace work ahead of an ambitious spring.

Sargent confirmed Brandenburg would have two barrier trials before resuming in the Gr.1 Winx Stakes (1400m) at Randwick in August.

"He's matured now. He was always a weak three-year-old, now he's got a neck and a behind and he's strong," Sargent said.

"He should measure up with the big boys."

While Brandenburg's return race is set in stone, all options for the remainder of the spring are on the table.

The colt is yet to be tested beyond a mile but Sargent, a prolific trainer of stayers and middle-distance gallopers, has no doubt Brandenburg can extend his brilliance to longer journeys.

He has earmarked the $7.5 million Golden Eagle (1500m) at Rosehill on October 31 and the 100th edition of the Gr.1 Cox Plate (2040m) at Moonee Valley a week earlier as prominent targets.

MUDHOO LIVING HIS DREAM IN NEW ZEALAND

Apprentice jockey Rohan Mudhoo proved to be the star of the show at Riccarton on Saturday when he produced a winning treble of rides on the first day of racing in the South Island following the easing of Covid-19 pandemic restrictions.

The Mauritian-born twenty-one-year-old is in the second full season of his apprenticeship with Riccarton trainer Mike McCann after following his older brother Krishna to New Zealand to launch his riding career.

Saturday's treble aboard stable runners Gee Tee Eleanor (NZ) (Sweet Orange), Frankie The Fox (NZ) (Ego) and the Ellis

Winsloe-trained Irish Excuse (NZ) (No Excuse Needed) took him to the fifty-win mark for his career to date, with Mudhoo delighted with the day's outcome.

"That is the first time that I have ridden three winners in a row so it was a great thrill," Mudhoo said.

"I was pretty calm going into the day and my boss had told me just to take things how they come and give the horses the best possible chance I could.

"When the track got wetter during the day, I was pretty hopeful as both of our stable horses had been working well and handling that type of ground well at home.

"Irish Excuse was just amazing and it was a magic effort.

"I was walking about 50.5kgs so I had to put over 10kgs of lead in my saddle to get to the weight he had to carry.

"He just didn't want to give up in the straight, he just kept trying and trying and he got there in the end."

From a non-racing background Mudhoo admits he was like any typical younger brother, keen to follow in the footsteps of his older sibling Krishna when he started out on his path to becoming a jockey.

"In my family the only person who is involved in racing is my older brother," he said.

"When he was riding back home, he went to the South African Jockey Academy and then got the opportunity to come to New Zealand.

"I thought I'd follow him as I had been following him since I was a kid, the usual younger brother thing where whatever he was doing, I wanted to be doing the same.

"I wanted to act like him and I'd jump on the bed and pretend I was riding like him.

"I rang him here in New Zealand and he eventually managed to get me a job here."

While Mudhoo looked up to his brother, Krishna made sure his younger sibling found out just what hard work was required to make it as a jockey.

"He (Krishna) has taught me a lot in so many ways but I can say he has never been nice to me on a racetrack," Mudhoo said.

"He was always telling me what I had done wrong, picked on my mistakes and made me learn very quickly.

"That has been good for my riding and I do appreciate it as it has taught me to figure out what I need to do in different circumstances.

"I know he loves me but he can be a grumpy so and so when we are out on the track together."

Mudhoo is keen to develop his riding further and plans to take every opportunity available to him as he looks forward to the next twelve months in the saddle.

"I want to keep improving and ride more winners," he said.

"I've ridden three in a day and now I want to win four. I want to keep working hard and give my horses the best chance that I can."

"I'm doing what I really want to do and I'm living my dream with race riding so I feel like I am blessed."

KIWI CHASER ON TARGET FOR AUSTRALIAN GRAND NATIONAL

Shamal (right) flies a fence on his way to victory at Casterton (Brett Holburt)

Leading Kiwi jumper Shamal (NZ) (Zabeel) took the next step on his path to the Australian Grand National Steeplechase (4500m) at Ballarat in August with a gritty victory at Casterton on Saturday.

Carrying clear topweight of 74kgs, the former New Zealand Grand National Steeplechase (5600m) and Waikato Steeplechase (3900m) winner had to call on all his noted staying qualities for rider Lee Horner to defeat fellow Kiwi-breds Zataglio (NZ) (Savabeel) and Speedy Jax (NZ)

(Spartacus) in the 3800m contest.

Horner kept the Zabeel nine-year-old in a striking position throughout before taking him to the front at the last fence where he fended off all challengers to win by half a length and register his ninth career victory and first in Australia.

Trained in New Zealand by his part-owner Ken Duncan, Shamal has been in the care of Ballarat trainer Amy McDonald since April after Duncan was unable to travel to Australia due to the Covid-19 pandemic restrictions.

McDonald, who is married to Horner, is a rising star in the training ranks and was delighted to put a win on the board for Duncan.

"It was very exciting and he was really good to win the race against some real Casterton track specialists," McDonald said.

"It was a really good ride as we didn't want to get too far back with that sort of weight as it makes it hard to make up the ground."

"He jumps so well that he puts himself there near the speed. I thought he was tough enough to keep going to the line and the only real worry was whether there was a lighter weighted horse that might be able to zip past him at the line, but thankfully there wasn't.

"Kenny (Duncan) and I speak every day and we were both really happy with the horse going into the race.

"We've been gifted this beautiful big horse that just does his own thing so it's a magical job that Kenny has done and we are just so lucky to have him."

McDonald is keen to get the horse to the prestigious Grand National Steeplechase on her home turf in August and is likely to take the next step on that path through the Thackeray Steeplechase (3450m) at Warrnambool next Sunday.

"Depending on how he pulls up we will enter him for the Thackeray at Warrnambool," she said.

"From there we will progress to the National here in August.

"There are a few options for him on the way there but we think he runs best a little on the fresh side so we don't want to tax him too much before he gets to the target he was sent over for."

McDonald also advised that stablemate Alfie Dee (NZ) (Zed), who won the Grand National Hurdle (4200m) at Riccarton for Duncan last year, had knocked a leg when winning a trial at Casterton last month and would now be put aside for a spell before returning next season.
